Success Story

I was part of the Siraj Campaign I heard many stories of violence, and with every story I heard and documented, I felt that the words of violence and beating would be in the form of bruises in my heart. That is why I used my pen to write the sound that no one heard, and the words that no one spoke, and it was my pen and letters that let me participate in the Siraj campaign, and I decided that I will be an author of one of the stories of these women. I took an acting role in the performance "Roqa", and with the compensation I received, I created a small business selling bandanas ..so I earned and learned that my pen is my way to resist!

Success Story

"My name is Maryam, I am syrian who live in Al natheef and I began my journey at Ruwwad in 2021.

I used to physically abuse my classmates at school which made me get suspended and loose a year. I am 16 years old now and after joining the psychosocial support sessions especially the ones about 'how to deal with hard emotion', I started to use new ways to express my anger. and I got back to school! I have graduated from psychosocial support last year and this year I am excited to continue my journey at Ruwwad's Innovation Space"
